Bulletin

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Redstone missile carrying a dummy man in space capsule was launched successfully today in a test of the rocket's readiness to hurl aloft a human astronaut. The success could help clear the way for an American to take a brief suborbital rocket ride into space within six weeks. However, the manned launching must await at least one more test firing of a capsule from Wallops Island, Va.

Pro-Western Laos charged today it has been attacked by Communist North Vietnamese troops. The next U. S. move appeared to depend on whether the Communists will call off the attack in the Southeast Asian jungle kingdom.

The Laotian government charged six new Communist battalions moved across the border and into the fight against the already demoralized royal army.

What the United States does now depends—in the words of Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis.—on "what the Kremlin will do in the next 48 hours."

Wiley, senior Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made the remark to Washington newsmen, apparently in reference to the awaited Soviet response to President Kennedy's appeal for a cease fire and a negotiated settlement to the Laotian crisis.

Premier Khrushchev returned to Moscow after a tour of agricultural areas but there was no official response to Kennedy's request that the Communist-backed rebels be halted.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said the Soviet Union had promised "serious and urgent" consideration of Britain's proposals for peace in Laos. Britain's foreign secretary gave no hint how long the British would be willing to wait for a reply, but said "clearly this is an urgent matter."

Kennedy appealed to India's Prime Minister Nehru to help arrange a cease-fire lest the civil war lead to a U. S.-Soviet military showdown over Southeast Asia.

Mrs. Bittle Heads Cancer Campaign

Mrs. Cecil Bittle, of Hope, has been chosen to direct the 1961 Crusade for Cancer in Hempstead County, it was announced today by A. E. Townsend Jr., Little Rock, president of the Arkansas Division of the American Cancer Society.

In accepting the chairmanship of the annual educational and fund raising drive, which begins April 1, Mrs. Bittle said that "because cancer eventually strikes 2 out of 3 families, there is urgent need for everyone to do his share to combat a disease which last year took the lives of more than 250,000 of our fellow Americans."

Here in Hempstead County, 27 citizens lost their lives to cancer in 1960, according to the State Department of Vital Statistics. Mrs. Bittle said, and further stated that the Cancer Crusade helps save lives because the volunteers not only ring doorbells to collect funds, but will leave in each home leaflets which list the 7 danger signals of cancer, which could save the life of some member of the family.

SEATO Cites Need Now for Full Solidarity

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Military chiefs of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today emphasized the need for continued solidarity in strengthening their armed might against the Communist threat in Laos.

Communist support to the Pathet Lao rebels in Laos has created "a dangerous situation" in that neighboring jungle kingdom, the SEATO military strategists charged.

"This emphasized the need for continued solidarity among the eight (SEATO) nations to safeguard the freedom of the peoples of non-Communist states," they said in a communique.

Setting the stage for the SEATO foreign ministers meeting opening here on Monday, the communique was one of the strongest issued by the military advisers in the alliance's seven-year history.

The communique was issued after three days of secret review of Continued on Page Four

Low Bid on River Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Yancy B. Turner of Pine Bluff has submitted an apparent low bid of $107,800 on an Arkansas River bank stabilization project near here.

Army Engineers said the job included repairing and enlarging existing dikes and revetments along 15 miles of the river downstream from Little Rock.

Four other bids were opened Thursday.

Coy J. Hubbard of Little Rock was apparent low bidder for an addition to the operations building at Walnut Ridge Air Force Base. His proposal was $95,570.

Minstrel Is Deserving of Support

The first performance of the Kiwanis Minstrel was last night in the High School auditorium. Although the crowd was smaller than in previous first nights it was very enthusiastic.

Those who saw last night's show will readily tell you that it was the best in recent years. The veteran cast plus new and younger talent gave a well rounded show that is pleasing to the entire family.

All of the funds from the Minstrel is spent on the Kiwanis Youth program here in Hope. Over the years the Minstrel has netted over $10,000 which has gone into various Youth projects, the most outstanding probably is the Youth Center itself.

The club and performers worked hard on this year's Minstrel and the result is worth seeing. If you haven't seen this year's edition do so tonight at 8 o'clock. Help the Kiwanis Club help your children.

Nazarenes in Attendance Campaign

Easter Sunday the attendance goal is 100 which is the church record and the Easter Officers for world mission has been set at $100.

Per Capita Debt Below Average

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state's per capita indebtedness in 1965 will be lower than the national average even if Gov. Orval E. Faubus' proposed $60 million construction bond issue is approved, Legislative Auditor Orvel M. Johnson forecast Thursday.

Johnson, speaking at a civic meeting, said the state's indebtedness in 1965 would amount to $95 million.

Two Years in Red Ups Deficit by $5 Billion

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy broke the bad budget news to Congress today—two years of red ink financing for an apparent combined deficit of $5 billion, sending the national debt to new records.

In a special budget message, Kennedy discredited as "over-optimistic" the January estimates of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who forecast a slim $80 million surplus this year and a $1.5 surplus in fiscal 1962, starting July 1.

"There is no surplus in the inherited Eisenhower budget for 1961," Kennedy advised Congress. It is "over $2 billion" out of balance, he said. The actual estimate is $2.2 billion. It means the debt limit must be raised again, the President said.

The surplus heralded for fiscal 1962 has become a $1.9 billion deficit on the civilian side alone, Kennedy announced. He said the Eisenhower administration, which never admitted there was a recession, based its revenue estimate on "a much rosier economy."

Officials said Kennedy's military program, plus revised estimates of the cost of defense programs, will send the total 1962 deficit beyond $3 billion and swell the public debt by mid-1962 to a record of about $290 billion.

Nowhere in this message was there the slightest indication of a possible temporary tax cut to combat the business slump.

As Eisenhower had done, Kennedy asked a $843 million postal rate increase to eliminate the Post Office deficit.

The President's defense program is due to reach Congress next week. Today's 6,000-word message dealt only with civilian matters. Many paragraphs were devoted to documenting Kennedy's pledge—made in his State of the Union message—that his program would not unbalance the budget "of and by themselves."

"It is my determined purpose to be a prudent steward of the public funds—to obtain a dollar's worth of results for every dollar we spend," the President said.

His 1962 budget is precisely balanced at $83.2 billion of income and outgo, Kennedy said, if the Eisenhower estimate of defense spending and tax collections is accepted. But a "more realistic" judgment of the impact of the business slump reduces receipts to $81.4 billion, he added.

The 1962 fiscal figures in brief: outgo, $83.2 billion; income, $81.4 billion. The totals compared with Eisenhower's proposed $80.9 billion of outlays and proposed $82.3 billion of revenues.

Highway 70 Heaviest Traveled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' heaviest traveled highway last year was Highway 70 between Little Rock and Memphis, the Highway Department's Research Division reported today.
Highway 70 also had the busiest point on the state highway system—27,800 vehicles a day where it joins Highway 5 southwest of Little Rock.

Highway 70 between Little Rock and Memphis carried a maximum of 25,000 vehicles a day at the Memphis-Arkansas Bridge and a minimum of 3,600 a day in the De Valls Bluff area, about halfway between the two major cities.

The Memphis-Arkansas Bridge, which feeds several major highways in Arkansas, carried the most truck traffic—2,800 vehicles a day. This is 100 trucks a day more than Highway 70 at the busiest point southwest of Little Rock.

Research Director Russell Henderson said statewide traffic volume in 1960 was 1.5 per cent higher than in 1959.

Other heavily-traveled roads included Highway 71 between Fort Smith and Van Buren and between Fayetteville and Rogers and Highways 65, 67 and 61 throughout the state.

Cars Strangling Downtown Areas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Automobiles are strangling downtown areas and forcing people to the suburbs, the executive director of Downtown Progress in Washington, D.C., says.

Knox Banner, who was Little Rock Housing Authority director before he moved to Washington, told the Arkansas Conference on Planning, Renewal and Rehabilitation Thursday that an automobile avalanche is causing many downtown areas to deteriorate.

He said hordes of cars are bottling up the area's streets, forcing residents to move.
Banner said the solution calls for great leadership to reverse community lethargy before it reaches a critical stage.

The two day conference dealt with urban renewal problems and rehabilitation.

Urges Board to Admit More Negroes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Unless the Little Rock School Board acts to admit more Negroes to public schools, federal courts will order immediate total desegregation, the board's secretary said Wednesday.

Ted Lamb, who in the past has been critical of other board actions, told a League of Women Voters meeting that Little Rock must make "substantial progress and quickly."

Otherwise, he said, courts would strike down the board's use of state pupil placement procedures and the present desegregation plan.

Lamb questioned whether a decrease in the number of Negro students at Central High School from nine to seven in a four-year period constituted good faith in compliance with court orders.

Nine Negroes entered the onetime school in 1957-58. This integration was accompanied by violence and a year of closed public high schools. Seven Negroes now attend that school. Four others attend another formerly all-white high school, Hall.

No other schools are integrated now, but the original desegregation plan contemplated under high school desegregation last year or this year and a federal appeals court recently directed the board to speed up its implementation of that plan.

"I think there is some feeling on the school board—and in the community—that if we turn our backs the thing will go away," Lamb said. But he warned that Negroes will continue to press for integration in the courts.

Lamb said he did not question the integrity of his fellow board members, whom he said felt they were representing the interests of the community. But Lamb said he believed in government by leadership, not by opinion poll.

HD Women Stress Safety

Home Demonstration women of Hempstead county were told valuable safety information yesterday at a Spring Council meeting at the Experiment Station. The program was in charge of Mrs. Ernest Graham, county and state safety chairman.

Mrs. Lester Kent, council president, presided and Mrs. J. E. McWilliams led opening prayer. The Rev. Merlin Cox gave the devotion.

Graham reported on a trip to Chicago for the National Health Conference and to East Lansing, Michigan for a Traffic Safety Workshop. During the business session Mrs. Troy Burson served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Roy Seawald. Announcements were made about a furniture workshop, a first aid course, a pot and pan clinic April 11, a style show and tea in May and a tri-county tour to Howard County May 5.

Sgt. Rowell, traffic safety coordinator for the State Police, used a blackboard to illustrate actual traffic accidents involving several cars. A jury of nine women were picked to rule on violations. Chief Brown and Lt. Porterfield helped the women decide the guilty party. Sheriff Griffin spoke briefly. A potluck lunch was served.

Mrs. Paul Holt and Mrs. Myrtle Madlock entertained in the afternoon, followed by an auction for canned goods.

U. S. Policy on Laos Is Expected

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to make a major U. S. policy statement on the Laotian crisis today. He may disclose moves to strengthen pro-Western government forces against Soviet backed rebels.

Soviet reaction to an urgent new effort by Britain to get a diplomatic settlement could bring last minute changes in the expected presidential declaration. But officials were not very hopeful that the Soviets would agree at this stage to Western terms for a diplomatic settlement.

Kennedy is scheduled to hold a news conference at 6 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. The conference

$130,000 Suit It Settled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit for $130,000 which charged that a Little Rock family was nearly asphyxiated by a faulty air conditioner has been settled out of court.

Attorneys for the principals declined to disclose terms of the settlement.

A. A. (Tony) Runshang Sr., his wife, Hattie, and their sons, A. A. Runshang Jr., sued Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and engineer Bert A. Dodson of Hot Springs after they said, they were made ill and unconscious in their lake-side cabin near Hot Springs by malfunctioning of the air conditioner.

The wage would go to $1.15 four months after enactment and to $1.25 two years later. New coverage would be limited to employees of retail chains with at least five outlets in two states.

Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., has been tapped to present the compromise in hopes of luring Southern Democrats from support of the coalition bill.

Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, leader of the Republican forces in the coalition, has announced he will oppose the Vinson measure. But he acknowledges it will probably drain off enough of his Southern support to make its passage likely.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg issued a strong denial that the administration was backing down in any way from its proposals. But the introduction shortly afterward of the Vinson substitute made it clear the House leadership, at least, is not opposed to a compromise.

DOROTHY DIX

Do Reformers Reform?

BY HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
You said in a recent column, "Any boy who steals only deserves contempt." I doubt if there is a person among us who hasn't taken something that didn't belong to him at some time in his life. I remember swiping a bit of a pie intended for a man who worked for my father when I was a kid. Should I be held in contempt all my life for that? I'm a pretty law-abiding citizen now; raised three fine children and have four wonderful grandchildren.

Boys who are down and out need a lot of understanding. I hope you will be just as ready to say what you think of me as I have been to express myself about you. I would like to know how many agree with me. —Mrs. L.B.

Dear Mrs. L. B.: I'm all for helping these boys to help themselves but not at the expense of inexperienced young girls whom they've sold a bill of goods. If the boys had any character they would prove they had reformed before they looked up their erstwhile girl friends. Rehabilitation is fine but the youngsters must first have the will to do what is right. The sad truth is that the sensibilities of these kids are blunted by crime and, once that happens, they can no longer distinguish right from wrong, nor can reformers reach them.

Dear Helen:
I am a widow 55 years old and very much in love with a widower who is 67. He wants to marry me. We see each other every day and like the same things. Do you think he is too old for me? —G.

Dear G.: Not if you sincerely love one another and share the same tastes. Age is psychological, not physiological. Longfellow said: "Age is opportunity no less Than youth itself." "Though in another dress."

Sues Because Plane Hurt Ear

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Noise from the crash of a B47 jet bomber injured the ear of a Morrilton woman, according to allegations in a $25,000 damage suit filed today in U. S. District Court here.

The suit asks a $20,000 judgment from the government for the ear injury to Mrs. Rheba Huell and also for a stomach ulcer she allegedly developed as a result of the experience March 4, 1959.

The suit asks $4,000 for her husband for medical and hospital expenses and $1,000 for damage to crops and real estate.

The B47 plunged to earth on the Huell property near Morrilton, killing several crewmen. Mrs. Huell was in the house at the time the plane crashed nearby.

Compromise on Wage Bill Expected

By JOHN W. BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk of compromise echoed around Capitol Hill today as the House got down to work on a bill to increase the present $1-an-hour minimum wage.

Despite the insistence of administration spokesmen that they were sticking by their original proposal, backstage maneuvering by both sides made it clear alternatives are being considered.

President Kennedy has asked for a 25-cent boost in the minimum in steps and added coverage for 4.3 million workers. A powerful coalition of Republican and Southern Democrats is backing a 15-cent raise and extension of new coverage to only 1.4 million workers.

With a final vote scheduled for Friday, Democratic leaders in the House have come up with a compromise they hope will avert a head-on collision that could prove damaging to Kennedy's prestige.

It would tie Kennedy's wage proposal to the new coverage for 1.4 million in the coalition sub-

Wiley said India is playing "a tremendous part" in negotiations and added: "She (India) probably is sending troops to Laos. I don't know; I hope so."
Kennedy, who adopted a soft-spoken but tough attitude in his news conference, received backing from President Eisenhower. Eisenhower told newsmen in Palm Springs, Calif., Kennedy telephoned him this morning to discuss the Laotian crisis. Eisenhower expressed satisfaction with Kennedy's stand.
U.S. military movements continued. The U.S. Embassy in Vientiane announced 15 helicopters from the U.S. 7th Fleet arrived in neighboring Thailand en route to the American aid mission supporting the royal Laotian army.
The Laotian government battered without respite since March 7 by the Soviet-supplied Pathet Lao rebels, charged that three Red North Vietnamese battalions have been thrown into an assault on Kam Keut in the narrow central section of Laos, about midway between Thailand and North Viet Nam.
Similar invasion charges have been made repeatedly in the past but the government has not offered conclusive proof and did not today.
Kennedy warned at his news conference that the United States has obligations under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to deal with aggression in Laos "and no one should doubt our resolution on this point."
SEATO's military advisers, meeting in Bangkok, Thailand, issued a communique charging that Communist support of the Pathet Lao rebels has created "a dangerous situation."
It emphasized the need for continued solidarity among the eight SEATO nations to "safeguard the freedom of the peoples of non-Communist states," the communique said.
SEATO signatories have a treaty obligation for defense of Laos. Kennedy expressed confidence Americans would back his decisions, made in concert with SEATO allies, to act if necessary.
Except for bare mention by Tass, the Soviet news agency, the Moscow press ignored Kennedy's statements and there was no reaction from Khrushchev, who is back in Moscow after a tour of Siberian and central Asian agricultural areas.
British officials warmly welcomed Kennedy's call for a peaceful settlement.
British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan left London by air for a 19-day visit to the United States, Canada and the West Indies.
Macmillan said he has "much to talk about" with Kennedy. But aides said despite the urgency of the Laotian crisis, Macmillan will adhere to his original schedule, which calls for a visit first to the West Indies and then a meeting with Kennedy April 5-6.
Kennedy's roving ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, delivered a special message on Laos from the President to Prime Minister Nehru in New Delhi, India. Nehru said, "I think it is a helpful message," but gave no details.

AP&L Wants to Buy System
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Power & Light Co. today asked Public Service Commission permission to buy $3.3 million worth of electrical systems it has operated since the early 1940s.
The company wants to buy systems in Hot Springs, for $2 million, and those in Helena, West Helena and Marianna for $1.3 million. The systems now belong to Arkansas Utilities Co., which leased them to AP&L.
In another application, White River Telephone Co. of Elkins in Washington County asked approval for modernization in St. Paul, for which it proposed to borrow $119,000.

NIGHT MARSHAL
By I. P. Holmes

THE STORY: Chris Waddell, the night marshal, disregards threats to his life and continues his duties. He has been warned by Ace McSwain, a gambler, but a friend of the night marshal.

CHAPTER XVII
Ace McSwain knew all the tricks of his trade, and when allowed to be, was strictly a square gambler. Though against the greedy and the crooked he could be merciless. From those who could afford it he would win whatever fortune and his own shrewd, but square ability with the cards might bring.
Like most of his kind he was superstitious, and where his instincts were concerned, trusted them fully. And with Price Ringgold, these instincts slugged him solidly. He despised the pale eyed, tawny Ringgold, who showed so little and hid so much behind that secretive half-smile which could so swiftly become a snarl.
Toward Bryan A. Garrison and Lamar Hume, MacSwain's feeling was completely neutral. He knew no qualms at taking their money, for they were mature men who enjoyed the game. And if, too often, they tried to substitute the weight of a bet for a proper judgment of the percentages of chance, they could afford to pay for the mistake.
He had finished his brandy and was lighting a cigar when Scotty Deale faced him across the bar and jerked an indicating nod.
"They're waitin' for you."
MacSwain showed his brief smile. "So I notice. But after last night and being new in this camp, I'm wondering about your feelings toward me and my trade?"
Scotty Deale shrugged. "Suits me so long as you deal 'em half way fair. Fact is, I been thinkin' of hirin' a house man. Later on, maybe, we might get together."
"Perhaps," MacSwain murmured.
He sauntered over to the poker table where Byron A. Garrison and Lamar Hume were seated. Garrison waiting stolidly, Lamar Hume restlessly laying out dummy hands. Price Ringgold held a place toward the far end of the bar, but as soon as MacSwain approached the poker table, moved up to it himself.
MacSwain did not miss the quickness of his move nor the hungry glint in those pale eyes. To Hume and Garrison the gambler's nod was affable.
"Gentlemen! You are looking for revenge?"
"Not the right word," said Garrison with some pompousness. "Rather, a chance to get even."
Lamar Hume showed a short, quick laugh. "With me, it's that I just plain hate to lose. At poker, or anything else."
Over on Ute Street, Chris Waddell paced out the deepening night hours on solitary patrol. The distant gunshot which he investigated, came to nothing. Probably some coward from the hill range round letting off steam.
Despite the threat of the night, Waddell moved along Ute Street with growing confidence because alert observation made for increasing familiarity with the Gulch.
He stopped in at the Staghorn, where he met and held Breed Garvey's wicked glare until the dive owner's glance wavered and he turned back to his bar chores, the marks of the gun-whipping he'd taken last night still livid across his face.
Further survey of the deadfall showed a poker game going on in a far corner. One of the players was Jack Millerson's clerk, Spence Munger, who was so intent on the cards he was unaware of Waddell's presence. Standing behind Munger's chair, watching the play, was the same rusty haired rider who carried one arm in a sling and had been in the place last night to growl his protest when Waddell laid his gun barrel across Breed Garvey's face. Neither of them noticed Waddell as he studied them for a musing moment or two before returning to the street.
The first time he came even with Hogan Geor's Belle Union deadfall, Waddell did not pause. Here was the headquarters of the thing he was combating, the thing that could destroy him. And there were those, it seemed, who were willing to wager that it would.
Fifty yards along he stopped and looked back. No one was following him, and so far as he could see there were no skulkers about. He shook his head impatiently, almost angrily. This wouldn't do—wouldn't do at all. Not to figuratively hold his breath and walk on tiptoe every time he passed the place.
The pressure should never be on him, but on Geor and his bully boys.
It was nearing midnight when Chris Waddell's next patrol found him in front of the Belle Union again. He paused, staring at the door. Sooner or later, Waddell, he told himself, you got to go through that door—alone! You'll never be boss of this street until

Why Should I Care About Laos?
EDITOR'S NOTE: Bem Price is a veteran Associated Press newsmen who specialized in military affairs.
BY BEM PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Many an American must be asking himself today, "Why should I care about Laos?"
The same question must have occurred to millions of people in other lands after President Kennedy's news conference Thursday night.
Laos, by anybody's standards, is a backward, landlocked nation of two million people. To most Americans it is 6,000 miles from nowhere.
As nations go, Laos can barely qualify as one. Most of its people are illiterate and some haven't the foggiest notion of nationalism.
So why bother about it? So why should President Kennedy make it plain to the world that the United States would not idly stand by while the Communists overrun the place?
As a landlocked nation abutting Red China on its northern border, Laos is like a wedge. If the Communists can drive their wedge deep enough, the entire area is split apart.
Laos touches on four nations which are non-Communist—Cambodia, Burma, Thailand, and South Viet Nam.
A Communist Laos would provide an ideal springboard for any Red attempts to seize these nations and, ultimately, all of Southeast Asia piecemeal.
But the chain of events which the loss of Laos could entail does not stop there. The consequences are far broader—indeed, worldwide.
The fall of Southeast Asia would substantially outflank the subcontinent of India with its 400 million people, opening them to Communist blackmail on the north and east.
For the free world, vital strategic supplies—rubber, tin from Malaya, for example—would be gone.
Southeast Asia as a whole is a food surplus area even though vast sections are uninhabited. Communist control would give Red China room for expansion by its teeming millions and insure a greater food supply.
Much of the rice for other lands comes from here. This would be shut off.
By controlling Southeast Asia, the Communists would be a mere puddle jump from oil-rich Indonesia.
Further, Southeast Asia would sit like another wedge in the island chain which stretches from the Australian continent clear to Japan and which embraces the Philippines.
The process of piecemeal conquest could go on endlessly. The process would not necessarily have to be by overt action.

1927 Flood Was Starting Point
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 1927 Arkansas River flood marked the beginning of what is today a huge river improvement program, an Army Engineer official said today.
Carl Olsson, technical liaison officer for the Little Rock District of the Engineers, told a civic club, "The people were excited about the extreme damages and loss of life in the 1927 flood and they insisted that Congress do something about it."
That insistence resulted in an investigation by the Engineers of you do. And so long as you must—well—!

Decision formed abruptly. He shouldered open the door and went in.

the Arkansas River with a view toward improvement of flood control, he said.
From that study, the river program has progressed to a multipurpose plan covering flood control, navigation and water storage.
Olsson said work in the Dannelle Lock and Dam, Arkansas' current major project in the river development is well ahead of schedule. And under a recent administration directive, the program may be completed by 1973, three years earlier than under the original plan.

Buckeyes Seem Headed for Another Title

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ohio State's mighty Buckeyes enter the semifinal stage of their quest for a second straight National Collegiate (NCAA) basketball crown in a game with the capitol St. Joseph's (Pa.) Hawks tonight.

The odds — 14 points — point to success for All-American Jerry Lucas and the defending champion Buckeyes, who carry a 31-game winning streak and their No. 1 national ranking into the fray.

The second semifinal matches the second-ranked Cincinnati Bearcats (25-3) against the Utah Redmen (23-6).

If Ohio State and Cincinnati, which is a 6-point favorite, live up to their billing, Saturday night's finals will be the first of the NCAA's 23 basketball tournaments matching two teams from one state.

Cincinnati and Ohio State haven't met in basketball since 1922.

Municipal Auditorium's 10,500-seat arena has been sold out for weeks. The championship game will be televised locally and by a number of stations in the areas from which the finalists come.

St. Joseph's (24-4) which has a 15-game winning streak going, could be the sleeper in the final round.

The Hawks did not rank among the leaders nationally in any phase of the statistics, but averaged 80 points per game against 70 for their foes. They have a fine scorer in 6-6 Jack Egan who has a 21.7 average.

St. Joseph will send two sophomores and three seniors against the all-veteran Buckeyes. The rookies are James Lynam, smallest man in the tournament at 5-8, and 6-foot Bill Hoy. Lynam has averaged 10.7 points a game, Hoy 12.

The Hawks' front line of Egan (6-6), Frank Majewski (6-3) and Vince Kempton (6-5) completes a team average of 6-2 1/2, shortest of the four finalists.

The Cincinnati-Utah game pits the Bearcats' balance and rebounding power against the Utes' sharp shooting, led by Billy (The Hill) McGill, who has a 27.7 average.

Cincinnati has a great rebounding trio in Bob Wiesenbahn (6-4), Paul Hogue (6-9) and Tom Thacker, a high jumping 6-2 sophomore.

Ohio State, with Lucas averaging

Celtics Take Big Lead Over Nats

BOSTON (AP) — "I'm very disappointed, but I'm not discouraged," Syracuse Coach Alex Hannum said after his Nats' 133-110 defeat by the Boston Celtics. "We got beat by the great Celtics," Hannum said. "What else can you say?"

The Celtics victory Thursday night gave them a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Division National Basketball Association playoff. The series switches to Syracuse Saturday afternoon for a nationally televised (NBC) game.

"Now we just have to win that one at home and it's reduced to a best of three situation," Hannum said. "The smaller the series the better chance the underdog has of pulling an upset."

The Western Division playoff, tied at 1-1 between St. Louis and Los Angeles, resumes in Los Angeles tonight. Los Angeles won the first of the two games played in St. Louis, the Hawks the second.

ing 24.6 points per game, has a team average of 85.5 for its 26 outings. Utah has averaged 81.1, St. Joseph's 80 and Cincinnati 75. Cincinnati has the best defensive average, however, 60.4, compared to Ohio State's 65.4, Utah's 67.9 and St. Joseph's 70.

FOR THE BIRDS?

Pride Hesn't Left the Pirates

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

They don't strut or swagger, but the fierce pride and enthusiasm that carried the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates to the top last year underscores their imposing 11-3 exhibition record.

Dick Groat, shortstop for the Bucs and the National League batting champion, puts it this way. "We take tremendous pride in the pennant and the World Series. There is every bit as much enthusiasm in camp as there was last year."

His mates are content to do their talking on the playing field where they made Philadelphia victim No. 11 Thursday. Joe Christopher's 4-for-4 performance paced a 20-hit attack that overwhelmed the Phils 15-0.

The Boston Red Sox brought the American League's best record to 8-3 with an 11-7 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, and the streaking Baltimore Orioles won their sixth straight by beating New York 4-3.

In other games, Minnesota edged the Los Angeles Dodgers main squad 5-4, the Dodgers' B team nipped Washington 8-7, the Chicago White Sox defeated Milwaukee 3-2, St. Louis whipped Detroit 6-5, Cincinnati got by Kansas City 4-3 and San Francisco belted the Los Angeles Angels 13-4.

The Pirates won it despite a five-homer outburst—four off ace Vern Law—by the Phils. Jim Coker connected twice and Bob Malkmus, Johnny Callison and Bob Sadowski once each. Christopher had a pair of singles, a triple and a homer for Pittsburgh.

Pumpsie Green's bases-loaded double drove in three runs in the eighth inning as the Red Sox came from behind to overtake the Cubs. Green and Frank Malzone, who hit a two-run homer in the third, each drove in three Boston runs.

Marv Breeding's sixth-inning homer with Russ Snyder aboard was the clincher for the Orioles. Skinny Brown, touched for Mickey Mantle's fifth homer, gave up all three Yankee runs.

Sandy Koufax pitched no-hit ball in a seven-inning stint for the Dodgers' main squad. But ninth-inning homers by Earl Battey, with two on, and pinch hitter Lenny Green, with one on, brought the Twins from behind. Don Demeter homered for Los Angeles.

Tommy Davis singled Wally Moon home with the winning run as the Dodgers' B team scored three in the ninth to whip the Senators. Al Smith's sixth-inning home run was the clincher for the White Sox, as Billy Pierce checked the Braves on five hits in a six-inning workout.

The Cards beat the Tigers when Billy Bruton dropped a fly ball and permitted the tying and winning runs to score in the eighth inning. The Reds scored all their runs on home runs against the A's with Vada Pinson slamming two solo shots and Chico Cardenas hitting a one-on-homer.

Willie McCovey accounted for four RBI with a homer, triple and single in a 19-hit Giants' offensive that subdued the Angels.

Storm Brews Over Soviet Spy Ring

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP)—A major political storm with international repercussions was building up in Britain today over how a Soviet spy ring could operate five years in this tight little island without being detected.

Conviction Wednesday of a Soviet master spy, an American couple and two British lovers for stealing royal navy secrets still left missing links in the case England's lord chief justice called "a thriller."

Strange Radio Moscow transmissions on a secret wavelength 10 days after the five were caught led security officials to believe that other Soviet spies at large in Britain were being alerted to change their call signs and codes.

Lord Carrington, first lord of the admiralty, ordered a worldwide overhaul of the British navy's security system and announced a board of inquiry would be set up to investigate gaps already disclosed.

British newspapers lashed the security services for "unbelievable slackness." Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express raised the question of "how much vital information had reached the Russians through the flagrant folly and incompetence of naval intelligence" before the spy ring was cracked.

There were fears here of the impact on joint British-American military and diplomatic planning. The United States banned sharing atomic secrets in 1950 after Klaus Fuchs was caught giving the Soviets secrets credited with advancing construction of the first Soviet atomic bomb 3 to 10 years. The disappearance behind the iron curtain of British diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean and of atomic scientist Bruno Pontecorvo added to American mistrust of British security.

The British navy said the secrets passed to the Soviets by the five spies convicted Wednesday had "marked value," including details of the atomic submarine Dreadnought, built with the help of U.S. blueprints. But Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was understood to have written President Kennedy that no U.S. naval or atomic secrets were compromised by the spy ring.

Chief Justice Sir Hubert Lister Parker underscored the seriousness of the spying, however, by imposing sentences of from 15 to 25 years when the normal maximum is 7.

St. Louis and Providence to Meet for Title

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Providence, a go-go-go basketball team, and St. Louis, which cuts 'em off at the pass like the hero of a TV Western, will meet Saturday afternoon in the final of the 24th National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

It should be an interesting contrast of styles. They took opposite routes from nowhere into the last round and they'll be meeting for the third straight year in this oldest of all postseason basketball games.

Providence won the first two—75-72 in two overtime periods in 1959 and 64-53 last year. But that hasn't proved anything about the way they play. The two coaches and many neutral observers agree on that point.

"It was a typical game for us. We seem to lose our control when we have a late lead," said Providence Coach Joe Mullany after his Friars blew a seven-point lead in the last two minutes of regulation time then came back to gain a 90-83 overtime decision over scrappy Holy Cross in Thursday night's semifinals.

"We have to make them play our game. That's the only way we win," said Coach John Bennington of the deliberate St. Louis Billikens, whose 67-60 victory over Dayton was their highest score in three tournament games.

That leaves two big questions. Can Providence avoid costly mistakes? Can the St. Louis Billikens take charge and make the Friars play their kind of game. Losing Coach Tom Blackburn of Dayton thinks the Bills can do it.

"St. Louis is a good, aggressive club that will force any team into mistakes," he said.
